“

My name is Klara, and I am a second-year Science student from Denmark. Over the past two years, HKU has become my second home away from home, and living here has been a dream come true. I have met people from all over the world with whom I share my experiences with and who inspire me to live my dream to the fullest. Hong Kong is such an energetic city with endless possibilities, and I never cease to be surprised by what the city and the people here have to offer.

Karanveer Singh

India

Bachelor of Engineering 2025 | Technology Analyst at Morgan Stanley

“Between the world-class faculty and generous scholarships, HKU offered me the perfect academic environment to dive into research, pursue internships across industries, and even lead fun activities at my hall. That foundation was pivotal in launching my career as a software engineer at Morgan Stanley, where I now develop global trading systems.”
